Repair & Modification Disclaimers & Disclosures

The customer requests services from Atlantic Granite to repair or modify the following listed above and understands that Atlantic Granite is not liable or responsible for any issues concerning the previous manufacturing and fabrication, as well as the stone's current condition, that may come about during the attempted repair/modification.

The customer understands and agrees that the items above are currently broken, damaged, unstable, in less than satisfactory condition, or need modifications/adjustments to fit the customer's cabinetry and that these repairs/modifications are an attempt to fix, restore, set, mend, or adjust the items to an adequate, sufficient, and acceptable state of functionality.

The customer understands that there are potential risks involved with any repair/modification and releases Atlantic Granite from all responsibility no matter the outcome of the repair/modification.

The customer understands Atlantic Granite will attempt to complete and fulfill the requested repairs and/or modifications to the absolute best of their ability but also understands that all repairs/modifications are not guaranteed and release Atlantic Granite from any liability should repairs/modifications fail to reach the adequate, sufficient, and acceptable state of functionality.

The customer understands that the estimated amount is subject to change if repairs/modifications require more or less time for the attempt or completion.

The customer further understands that no matter the outcome of the repairs/modifications, they are financially responsible for the services rendered and will pay Atlantic Granite once they have finished.

By signing below, the customer agrees to all terms and conditions of the Repair & Modification Agreement Form.
